If you have relatives who attend or have attended Yale, other than parents, stepparents, or grandparents, please list relationship to you, name, year of graduation, and degree.

III • Second Essay (required)

You have already told us about yourself in the Common Application, with its list of activities, the Short Answer, and the Personal Essay. While we leave the topic of the second essay entirely up to you, try telling us something about yourself that you believe we cannot learn elsewhere in your application. Please limit yourself to fewer than 500 words. Print your essay on a separate sheet of paper marked "Second Essay," with your full legal name and date of birth at the top, and enclose it with your completed Supplement.

IV • Short Takes (required)

Please respond in 25 words or fewer to each of the questions below, using the space available after each question.

1. What would you do with a free afternoon?

2. Recall a compliment you received that you especially value. What was it? From whom did it come?

3. What two qualities do you admire most in other people?

4. What do you wish you were better at being or doing?

5. If you were choosing students to form a Yale class, what question would you ask here that we have not?

V • Additional Testing (optional)

The Common Application provides space for you to report the results of the SAT Reasoning Test, SAT Subject Tests, ACT, and TOEFL, as well as results of Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate examinations. Please list here any other tests you have taken, such as the AHSME, AIME, Fermat, etc., as well as any AP or IB scores that did not fit on the Common Application.

Please list your test results to date. Include the name of the test, the date taken, and the score received for each one.

VI • Supplementary Materials (optional)

 Before submitting supplementary material, be sure to read Yale's instructions for making such submissions at www.yale.edu/admit/freshmen/application/supplementary. Please follow these instructions carefully. We prefer that you not use the Common Application Arts Supplement form.*

Students with exceptional abilities that cannot be demonstrated elsewhere in the application may consider submitting supplementary materials. This should be done only when the submissions will demonstrate a high level of excellence in a particular field and be worthy of possible review by Yale faculty members. Check here if you intend to submit supplementary materials for evaluation. Materials must be submitted by the application deadline.
