I understand the following:

- If I decide to drop the course, I will obtain permission from the instructor and inform the Law School registrar's office. If an examination is required in the course, no drop forms will be accepted once the examination period has begun.
- I must file any necessary forms with my school's registrar by the stated deadlines. My school will determine fees for dropping courses.
- The Law School's calendar may differ from my school's calendar; exams may be held after the end of my school's term; grades may not be available by the deadline for my school.
