

Join us on Friday morning for our next grantsmanship/funding training program

HOW TO WRITE A SUCCESSFUL R01

Required and optional components.

Budgeting so that you don't run out of money.

Key personnel and collaborators – finding the right expertise.

How to approach the layout -- organization and formatting.

Quantity & quality in your research plan.

Requesting the right Study Section.

How applications are reviewed + new review criteria/scoring.

What can go wrong ... and how to make it right.

Where to go for answers concerning your R01 application.

Welcome and Introductory Remarks:

Merle Waxman, Associate Dean, Yale School of Medicine
Director, Office for Women in Medicine
Ombudsperson

Presenter:

R. Todd Constable, Ph.D.

Professor, Diagnostic Radiology, Biomedical Engineering, and Neurosurgery
Co-Director, Magnetic Resonance Research Center
Director, Magnetic Resonance Imaging Group, Bioimaging Sciences

Friday, July 10, 2009 ~ 10:00 - 11:30am

The Anylan Center Auditorium – N107

300 Cedar Street

Sponsored by the Offices of Grant and Contract Administration and Academic & Scientific Affairs

Join us for these upcoming grantsmanship/funding training programs

•A Behind the Scenes Program for Postdocs: Insider Tips on Finding Your Own Funding and Great Grantsmanship•

•Developing A Funded Research Plan•

•Show Me the Money: Searching for Funding Opportunities on the Internet•