

Why Senator Judd Gregg Really Turned Down a Position in the Obama Cabinet...

President Obama: So, Senator, we're just going to ask you a few general questions, you know to get a feel for your character. For instance, why do you like the Internet so much?

Senator Judd Gregg: Well, the Internet is really really great Rahmbo: Well, duh you stupid Republican, the Internet is for porn! The Internet is for porn! The Internet if for porn, porn, por...

Judd: Now wait just a minute there. President Obama, I know for a fact that you like to check golf and basketball scores online?

President Obama: Yup.

Judd: And Secretary of State Clinton? Doesn't she enjoy doing crossword puzzles on the New York Times site?

Rahmbo: Of course she does!

Judd: And Mr. Emanuel, you like watching ballet dancers leap around in tights on Youtube?

Rahmbo: Naturally. But what do you think we do afterwards (and sometimes without even changing the page)?

Judd: Well, um...ewwww, gross! You're such a perv! There's no way I can be a part of this cabinet!

Rahmbo: Oh come on - you're so naive - what do you think curious George Bush was really doing when he was reading up on WMDs? He still thinks that stands for Women up for Mad Debauchery, by the way...

President Obama: Okay, okay Rahm, he's gone. No need to worry. The big bad conservative is gone.

Rahmbo: Oh thank God. Those bastards make me sick!

President Obama: Well, (sighs) there goes another one...

Rahm Emanuel: For porn

Judd: I've got a fast connection so I don't have to wait

Rahmbo: For porn

Judd: Huh? I can browse sites even if I think they're lame

Rahmbo: For porn

Judd: And get tips from John McCain while we're on Aim

Rahmbo: For porn

Judd: 'Cuz the sites we like are pretty much the same!

Rahmbo: For porn!

Judd: Now, hang on there, Rahm. What do you think you're getting at?

Resolved: Embrace Pornography

Wednesday the 18th · 7:30 pm

Tuesday

This week the YPU will debate R: THE ACAD-EMY MUST BE POLITI-CALLY BALANCED with Anne Neal at 7:30 PM in SUDLER HALL (WLH 201). Come to decide whether Yale should be injected with conservatives and to appreciate being a part of one of the few balanced organizations on campus...

Wednesday

Whether you are a die-hard feminist whose hero is Gloria Steinem or president of the Hugh Hefner fan club and firm (har dee har har) believer that porn does no harm, come join us this week as we debate R: EMBRACE PORNOGRAPHY at 7:30 PM in a location TBA.

Friday

So a Rhodes scholar, a future Texas politician, and the daughter of two archeologists walk into a pizza place...If you want to hear the end of this joke or you just want free pizza, come to lunch with the IP at 12:30 PM at WALL STREET PIZZA (aka NAPLES).

Sunday

If you finish every week wishing you were Catholic just so you'd have someone to talk to - we have the solution! Come spill your guts (idiomatically or literally thanks to tofu apple crisp) at dinner in the TD DINING HALL at 5:15 PM, followed by E-BOARD at 6 in the TD SELIN LOUNGE.

Tsuki Hoshijima, Ryan Hollander, Jaymin Patel

Last Week, the Independent Party met to debate RESOLVED: SAVE THE WORLD. SHAINA "less talkee, more walkee" WRIGHT argued that hipsters need to let out their skinny jeans and start taking action. CARMEN "lost in translation" LEE argued that it is impossible for an outsider to fix the problems of a specific culture and thus the world. GEOFF "Thomas Pogge boy" SHAW argued that life is meaningless unless it is spent helping people, even a little. ALEX "Too bad Jay isn't here to see my inner libertarian shine" SOBLE argued that saving the world is not an attainable end but rather a means to assuaging a crushing guilt. MIKE "a pygmy bit me in the butt once" EDUCATE argued that we need to save the world because we're afraid it will get much worse. He was REBUTTED by MEREDITH "shocked and appalled" MORRISON who argued that change should only come from the bottom-up, through grassroots organizations. JOYCE "moral usage points" ARNOLD argued that if we waste all our morality on Somalia, we won't have any left for our neighbors. RACHEL "toolish philistines!" BAYEFESKY argued that objective morality needs to be enforced everywhere. SARAH "don't worry, it's just a leak" WINSBERG argued that the world won't necessarily collapse if we don't fix all of its problems. SHASH-WAT "top of the food chain" UDIT argued that fixing all of the world's problems could result in net harm to the environment. REK "Tom Friedman" LECOUNTE argued that the world should come together to save itself. FERNY "president of the Save the World Club, New Haven chapter" REYES argued that helping others outside our own communities is good. He was thanked for his FINE MAIDEN SPEECH. SASHA "loving the matching hippie shirts" BURGER argued that outsiders can often do more good than insiders because they're not subject to the internal prejudices of a country. CHARLES "If you teach a man to fish..." WATKINS argued that we should help the people of the world learn to help themselves. He was thanked for his FINE MAIDEN SPEECH. ALEX "helps old ladies cross the street" MARTONE argued that it is better to decrease the scale on which helping the world is done than to give up on that goal altogether. He was thanked for his FINE MAIDEN SPEECH. DOM "I believe Christians call it the apocalypse" LAW-TON argued that saving the world cannot be an end because there would be nothing left after the world is saved. He was thanked for his FINE MAIDEN SPEECH. JOE "debate can be treacherous" CARLSMITH argued that we should not over-think our humanity such that we no longer allow ourselves to act on our instinct for compassion. He was thanked for his FINE MAIDEN SPEECH. In a vote of TWELVE to SEVEN to FOUR, the motion PASSED, and the body adjourned to YORKSIDE, as is TRADITIONAL.

Around the YPU

Coming up this week at the YPU is guest Anne Neal, the President of the American Council of Trustees and Alumni, speaking on the topic Resolved: The Academy must be politically balanced. She was going to give her speech at the Yale Conservative Professors Society but found that it didn't exist. Instead she will hopefully regale the YPU with stories of Lynne Cheney, the wild child of the 90's. This debate should be interesting, as it will determine whether or not Peter Johnston will be able to get a post at one of those hippie liberal institutions he so despises.

It only really takes one conservative professor to balance out a liberal faculty.

What can I say? I'm not proud of it, but it paid the bills. And it's not like this pic became a model for human-lobster relations. In fact, I prefer this to the alternative...
