

Announcing the 2007-2008 Fellows

Once again TRI Fellows have an exciting line up of research projects around the world. TRI Endowed Fellowships are designed to support Master's and Doctoral students interested in conducting independent research in tropical countries. This year nineteen students received TRI Fellowships for summer research. The 2007 recipients and the countries where they plan to conduct research are:

Obinna Aduba, Nigeria
Meg Arenberg, Tanzania
Georgia Basso, Costa Rica
Kim Carlson, Indonesia
Natalie Ceperley, Benin
Jeffrey Chatellier, Senegal
Michael Coren, Indonesia
Laura Frye-Levine, Honduras
Elaine Hooper, Brazil
Lisa Leombruni, Honduras
Qi Feng Lin, Malaysia
Daniel Piotto, Brazil
Micha Rahder, Guatemala
Teresa Sarroca, Uruguay
Yuliya Shmidt, Guatemala
Peyton Smith, Kenya
Chisato Tomimura, Sri Lanka
Brenna Vredevelde, Ecuador
Bo White, Papua New Guinea

The Compton Foundation's Program aims to contribute to the capacity-building of young professionals from Central and South America and Sub-Saharan Africa, to improve policies and programs relating to peace, population, sustainable development and the environment. This year's recipients and their home countries are:

Alicia Calle from Colombia
Innocent Liengola from Democratic Republic of Congo
Baruani Mshale from Tanzania
Peterson Ouma Olum from Kenya