

Yale College Sexual Harassment Grievance Board
Report of Student Complaints for the Academic Year 2008-2009

During the academic year, 2008-2009, the SHGB was contacted by 3 students with complaints of sexual misconduct ranging from sexually harassing behavior to sexual assault. These complaints are separated, based on the parties involved, into three subsets noted below in (a) through (c).

The Yale College Sexual Harassment Grievance Board handles undergraduate student complaints against students, faculty, administration, and staff.

For complaints against undergraduate students, the Board handles only those complaints that are seeking an informal resolution; the Board refers formal complaints against undergraduate students to the Yale College Executive Committee which can impose disciplinary sanctions.

- a) Student-to-Student Complaint of Sexual Harassment - 2 cases, 1 of which was resolved by mediation and by counseling the person complained against to have no further contact with the complainant. One complaint was transferred to the Executive Committee.
 - b) Student-to-Employee Complaint of Sexual Harassment - 1 case of inappropriate employee comments and attention which was resolved informally by agreement of the employee to conduct no further personal communication with the complainant
 - c) Student-to-Student Complaint of Sexual Assault - 1 case, which was handled informally and resolved through counseling and by agreement of no further contact with the complainant.
- A related report by the Sexual Harassment Assault Resources & Education Center (SHARE) of the contacts to their 24/7 phone line can be found at their website, below. Those contacts involved 15 undergraduate complaints.
