President’s Letter to the YUWO Community
Welcome back! September is just half over and we already have had two stellar events.

Our Wine and Cheese Reception took place for the first-time at the Maurice Greenberg Conference Center on September 9th. Initially there was some disappointment that it would not be held at the President’s House, but the venue more than compensated for the change in location. Large enough to arrange the sign-up tables and food and beverages conveniently, it also provided an upbeat environment for greeting friends, both old and new.

Marta Moret, Yale’s first lady, was able to join us, as was Sheila Pastor from the Conference Center. Kudos to Event Chairs Johanna Becker and Cathy Burgard who were assisted by Charlotte Evans, Annemarie Lindskog, Judith Miller, and Roberta Thornton. Compliments in absentia to Robert Stern for designing such a wonderful space for a Conference Center.

The second stellar event occurred on September 15th. This was the debut of our Evening Group, as well as the premiere of our Evening Film Series. No klieg lights or red carpet, but everyone agreed that the Age of Innocence was a breathtaking film. Hank Paper of Best Video provided the introduction and background of the film to a sell-out crowd. Judith Lynch led the post-film discussion. Kudos to Cathy Burgard who developed the idea and produced the Film Series.

Sincerely, Stephanie Jatlow, President, and Annemarie Lindskog, Vice President
Art Aficionados to Visit Samurai Exhibit at the Peabody Museum

On Thursday, October 15 at noon, we will meet at the Yale Peabody Museum of Natural History for a guided tour of the Samurai Exhibit. Our guide will be Richard Yanowitz. We will begin with a slide show of background information on Japanese culture and then move into the Exhibit proper, where you may expect to be captivated. Our visit will last about 90 minutes. If you plan to attend, please leave your name with Anneke Hathaway at 203-752-0460 or anneke_hathaway@sbcglobal.net

2015 Yale University Women’s Organization Study Series

Wednesday, October 7, 14, 21, 28 and November 4, 10:00 – 11:00 am West Campus Conference Center +++ Five Days at the Opera

Our move to the Conference Center on Yale's West Campus has been a great success. The Conference Center provides us with ample parking, comfortable seating, state-of-the-art media equipment, and a pleasant cafeteria for pre- or post-lecture gathering. You are very welcome to bring a guest.

We are indeed fortunate to welcome Judith Malafronte of the Yale School of Music, who will present a series of lectures on opera, drawing from the 2015 – 2016 Metropolitan Opera HD performance schedule. Depending on the timing of their announcement, she may also be able to prepare us for the Spring Yale Opera performance.

Those who are familiar with Professor Malafronte, a world-renowned mezzo soprano, know that we can expect a rich, colorful, in-depth discussion of these operas. Questions? Contact Judy Miller at j.miller@snet.net or 203-589-8335.
